DIRECTIONS TO THE BINDER.

The Title-pages of the Quarterly Numbers of the Journal are to be cancelled.

The pages at the end of each Number containing the Annals of Ulster, and which are paged separately, are intended to form a distinct volume when completed: they are therefore to be removed from the Journal itself before binding, and kept separate for that purpose.

A lithographed Title-page is supplied for the year's volume of the Journal.

Immediately after this, place the "Prospectus," which is at the commencement of No. I.; and then the page beginning: "The Conductors of this Journal, think it right, &c."; next, the "Contents of Vol. I," and the "Illustrations in Vol. I." Afterwards, the Plates, in the following order:
